FOREWORD

The title P. H. S. Pinafore was inspired in part by the venture of the Class of 1939 into the realm of light opera aboard H. M. S. Pinafore; in part by our own three year cruise on the Sea of Knowledge aboard the good ship Pittsfield High School. It is our hope that P. H. S. Pinafore will bring to its readers pleasant memories of the happy days we have spent together.

OUR PILOT

With affection and gratitude the June Class of 1939, dedicates this yearbook to its helmsman, Mr. Thomas F. Geary, who has piloted this immense scholastic ship through many uncharted seas to its harbor of success.

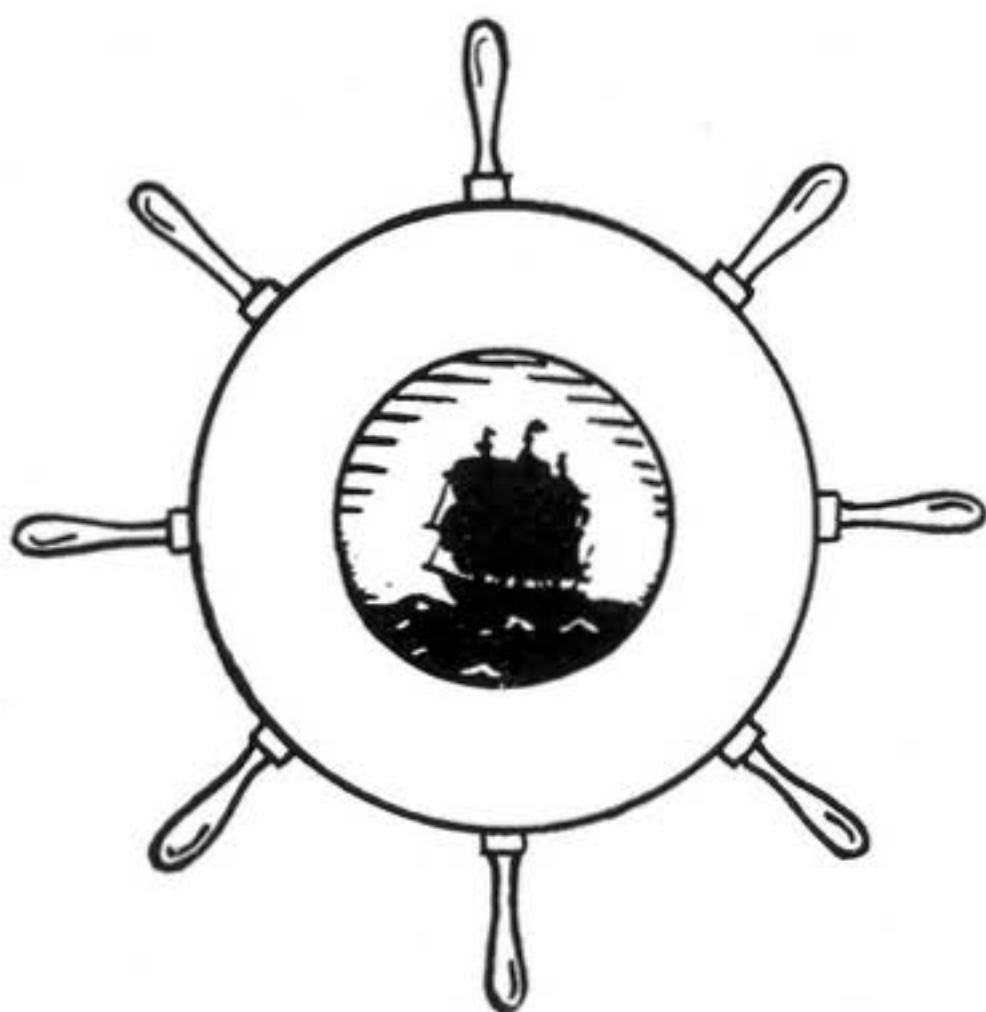

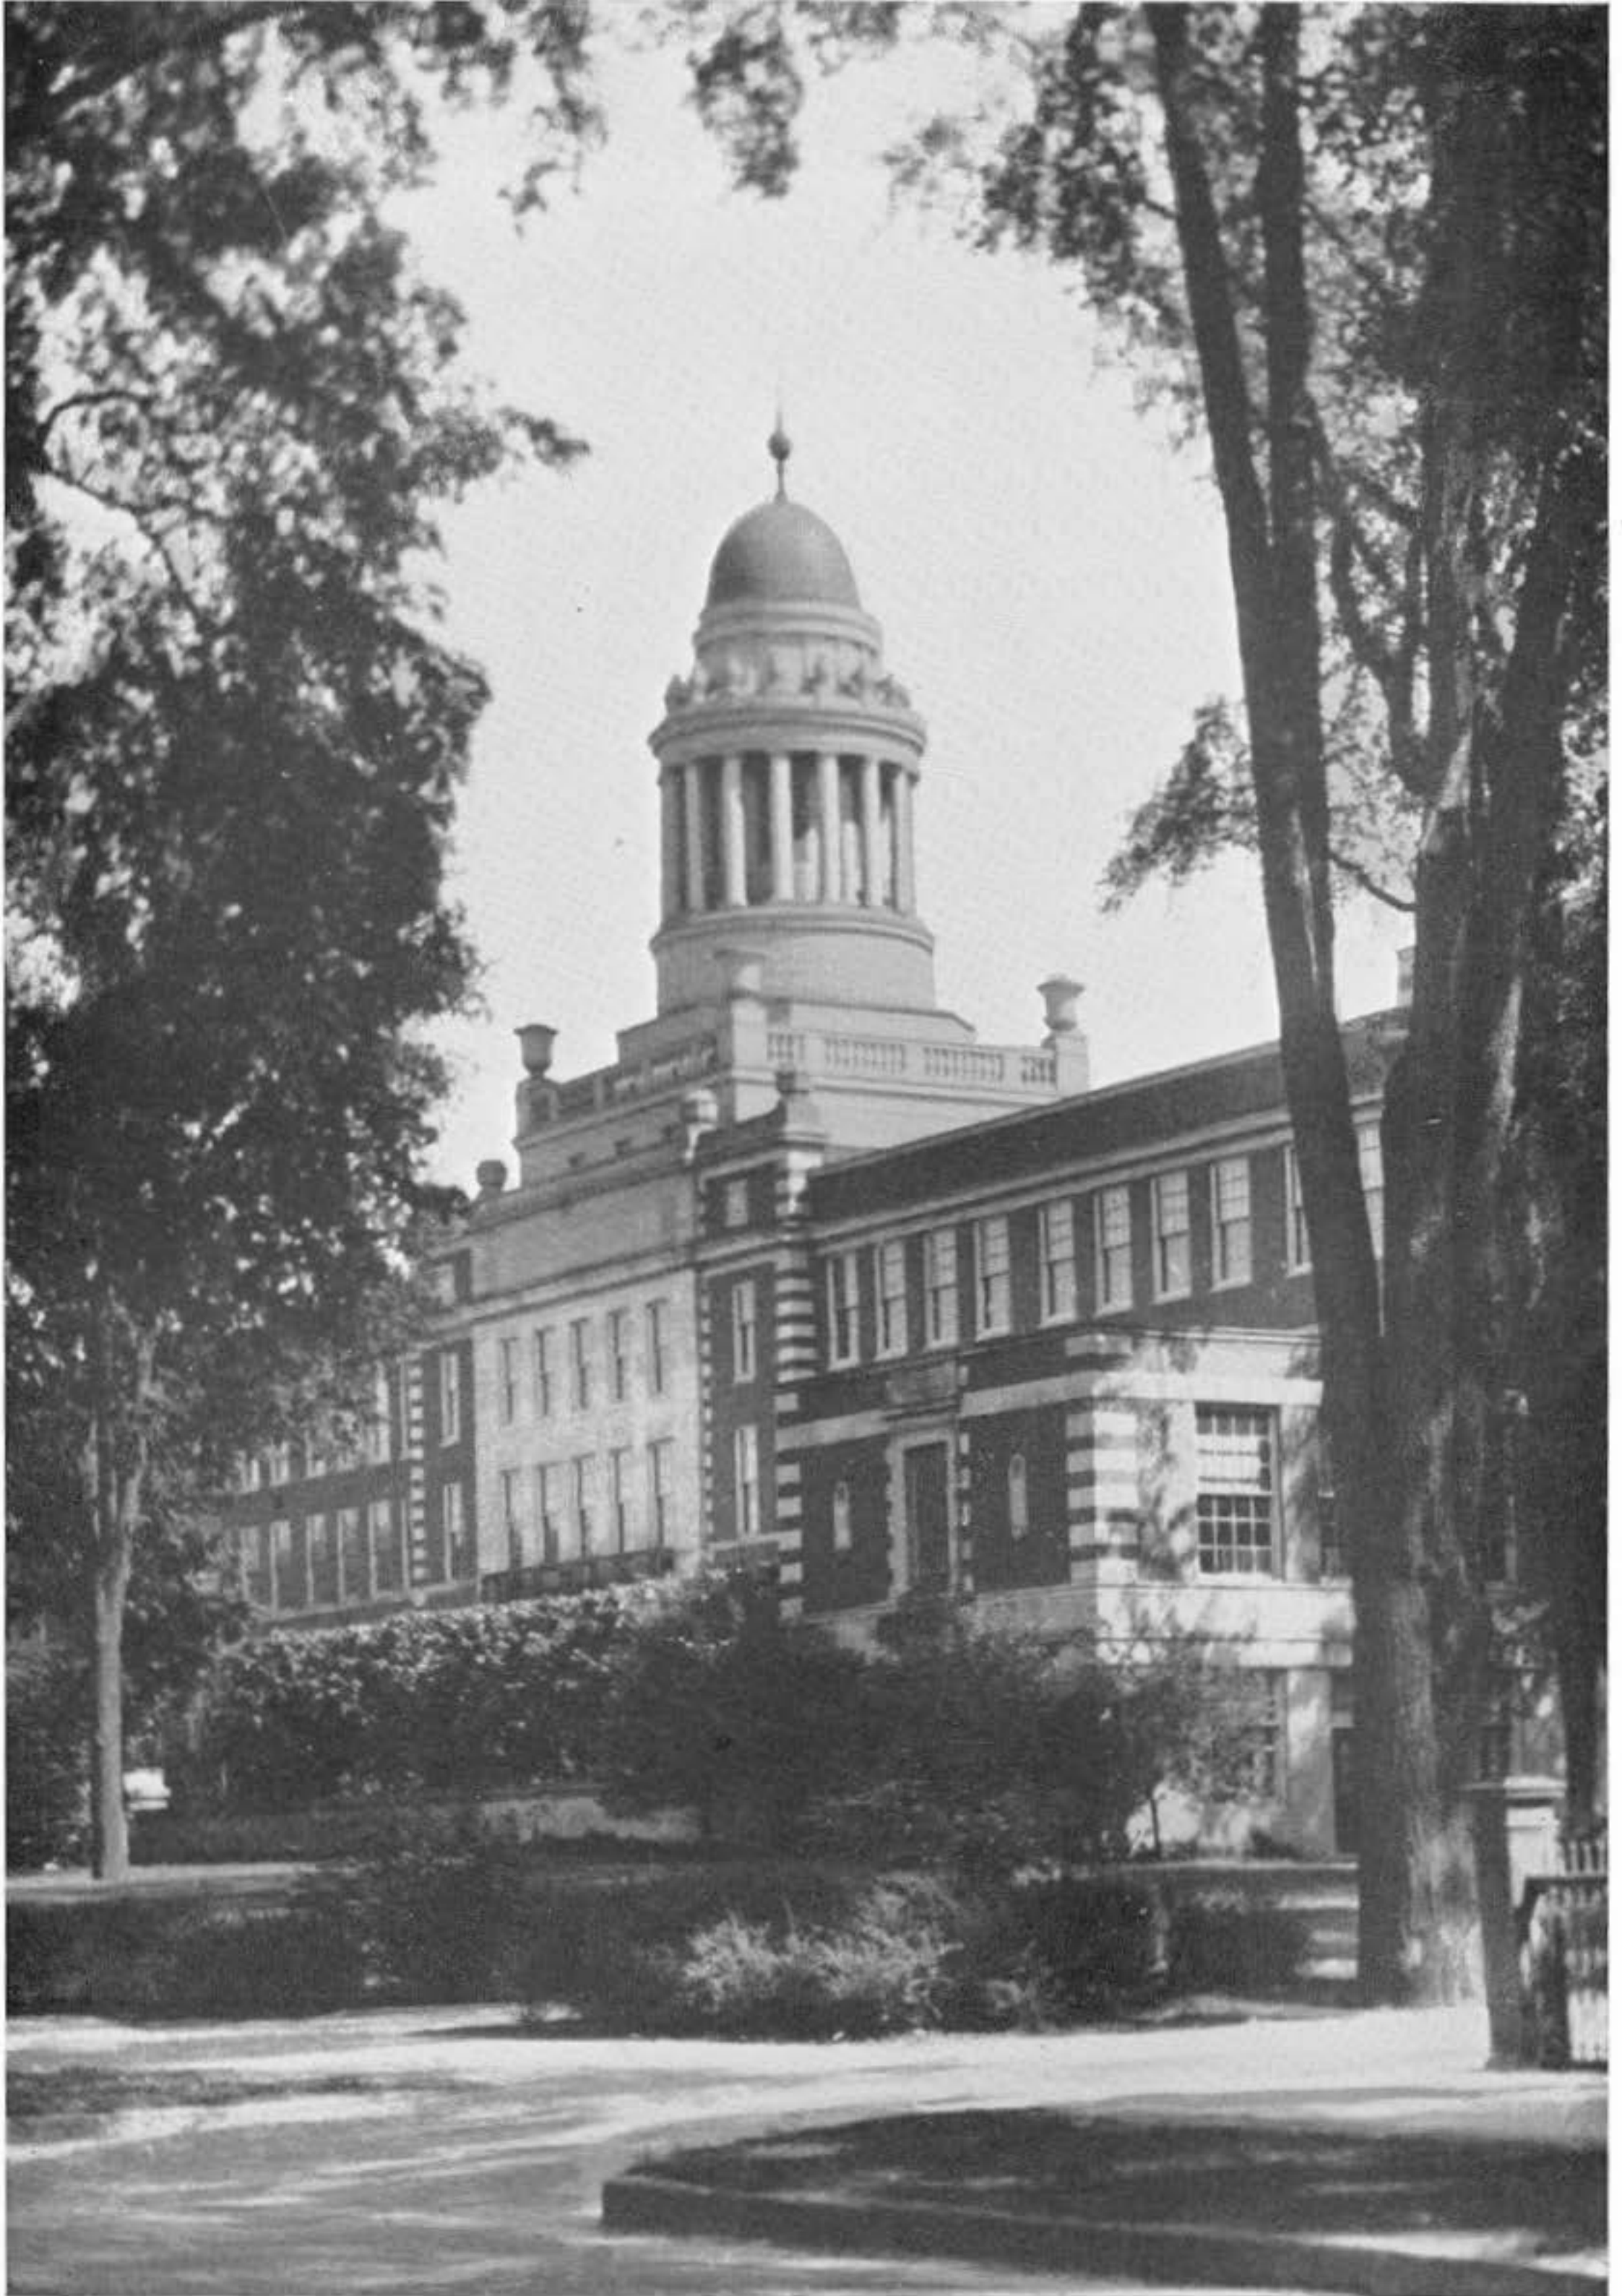

THE GRADUATING class of June, 1939, sincerely expresses its appreciation to Miss Pfeiffer, who has patiently and efficiently guided its varied journalistic endeavors. Because of her invaluable aid, Pittsfield High School's "Student's Pen" is a magazine of which the student body may well be proud. If the present volume, the "P. H. S. Pinafore", takes a worthy place on the long roster of successful yearbooks, that fact too is attributable to Miss Pfeiffer. For the time and the effort she has spent in directing its literary efforts, for her never-failing sympathy and understanding, for her wise and helpful advice, the Senior A class extends its heartfelt gratitude to Miss Madeline Pfeiffer.

IN MEMORIAM

*“Heavy the sorrow that bows the head;
Sad is the hour when sets the sun.”*

MR. JOHN A. FORD
Vice-Principal of Pittsfield High School
1914 - 1938

He knew well the frailties of human nature and dealt accordingly with all the wisdom of a great and understanding heart. Such a man as he can never pass away, for his soul will dwell in heaven and his memory will live in the hearts of all who knew him.

MR. CHARLES F. SMITH
Supervisor of Music in Pittsfield Schools
1909 - 1938

Although the magic of his violin is muted, the love of music he inspired in the hearts of his pupils can never be stilled.

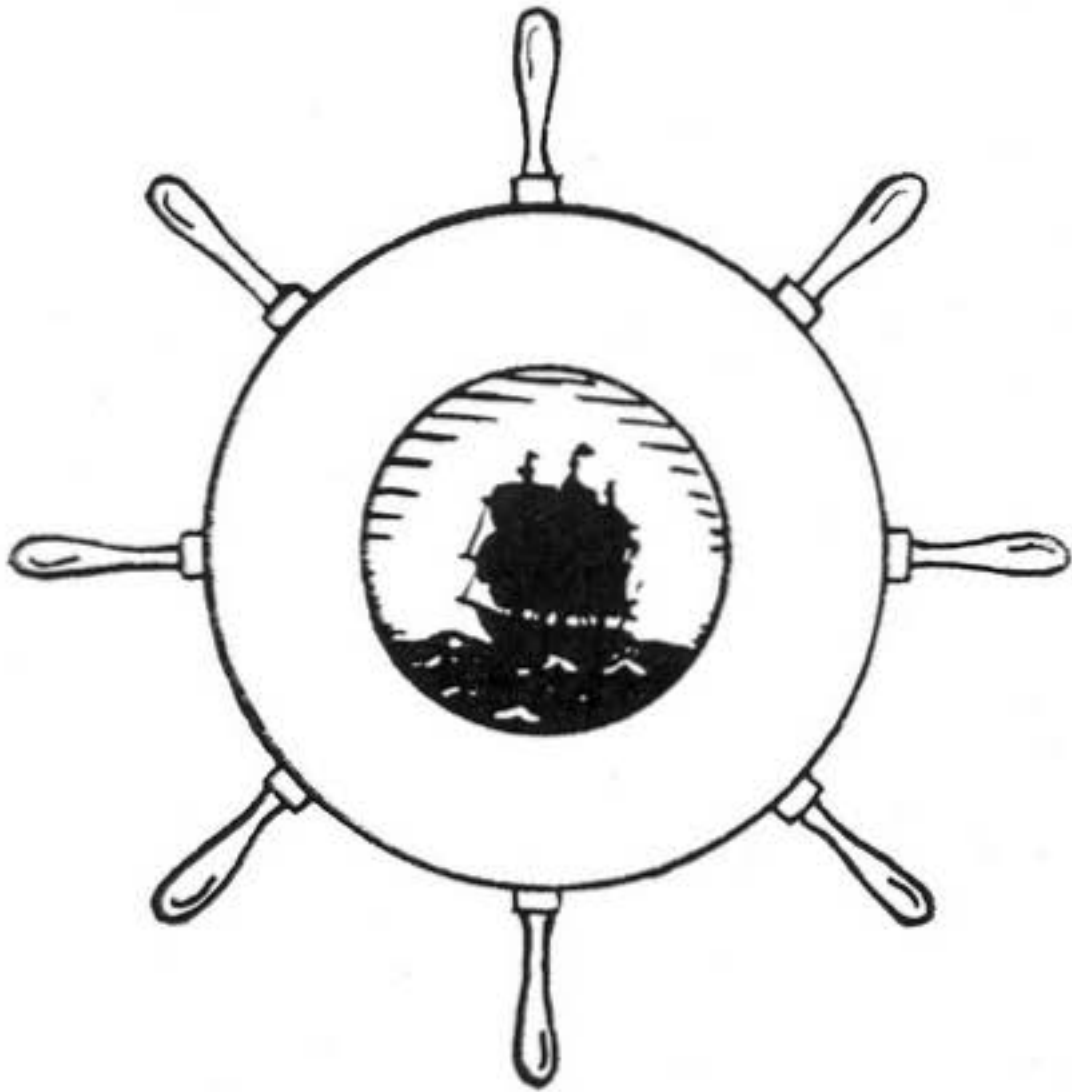

MR. JAMES W. MEEHAN

Instructor in History in Pittsfield High School

1930 - 1938

His memory will long pervade the school, bringing with it a spirit of gentle laughter and never-failing sympathy and kindness.

TUNE: "ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT"

Guardian elm trees cast their shadows
O'er thy ivied walls;
Sons and daughters ever loyal
Throng thy honored halls.
Pittsfield High School, Pittsfield High School,
Alma Mater dear,
Help us to preserve thy honor
Through each coming year.

Great has been thy former record,
Greater will it be,
As the future generations
Sing their praise to thee.
Proud are we who through thy portals
Into life do pass;
Help us ever to be worthy,
Each and every class.
Pittsfield High School, Pittsfield High School,
Alma Mater dear,
Help us to preserve thy honor
Through each coming year.

New Frontiers for American Youth

Maplewood Prize Essay—By Louisa Ashton

A sinking sun shed its crimson rays over the stars and stripes of Old Glory, but only for a moment, for then, she too sank, as she was gently lowered from her mast.

I was sitting on a granite bench not far from the Lincoln Memorial. This particularly quiet retreat was known only to me, and it had heard many of my secret problems and aspirations. On that night I had many problems on my mind, and perhaps that is why I did not notice the approaching figure until it was within a few feet of me. Raising my head, I saw a tall, slender man who seemed to be about fifty years of age. His hair was a silvery black color and his eyes were dark and searching. Wrinkles lined his kindly face.

Looking at me closely, he asked, "Why are you sitting here alone?"

"Oh, I was just thinking about some of my problems, and also about the problems that America is facing today," I answered confidently. It seemed as if I had known this man for centuries, he seemed so familiar!

While I was thinking, he answered: "I was once greatly interested in America and I am today. For many years I worked for her good. My difficulties and obstructions were many, but I never deserted her. Sometimes I walk about this memorial and wonder what her problems are today. Perhaps you can tell me about some of them."

"Yes, I should like to," I replied, and that is how our long conversation began.

"America is the purest and truest democracy on earth. She has developed a system of government which is superior to those formed by nations that are centuries older than she is. She is respected by these nations for her integrity and for her great development. Nevertheless, in order to preserve this democracy, it is essential that she face many problems that threaten to undermine that government.

"Among the many problems faced by America today, one of the most vital is that of crime prevention. Kidnapping, murder, swindling, income tax evasion, fraud, blackmail — these are the newspaper headlines that frequently greet the eyes of readers. A large percentage of these crimes are committed by individuals who are under twenty-one years of age. These young people are fooled by sensational and thrilling movies into believing that the gangster or lawbreaker is a hero. Many of these people searching for publicity and thrills, take the downward path. What is their fate? They may spend years behind the bars of a prison, reformatory, or other penal institution. If they do succeed in eluding justice, even they, at the end of their spectacular careers, regret the path they chose. Such people are weakening factors in the formation of a sound government.

"America's greatest institution, the home, is in danger of becoming a thing of the past. The home is no longer the place where the family congregates to discuss its problems and those of the government. When there is nothing else to do, the family goes home to sleep. Of all American homes this is not true, but the majority of them are run like small hotels. The preservation of the American home is necessary for the preservation of this democracy. The home must become the center of love, fellowship, and mutual understanding.

"The world is in constant agitation. It is full of selfishness, in the form of aggressive nations who desire that which is another's. The people of America must resolve that they will not join in an offensive war, or for that matter, in any struggle that will deter the onward march of this great American republic. Any person, who for his own personal profit, desires or promotes the entrance of this country into a war does not deserve the name of American.

"Thrift is an essential factor in the building of a government that will function smoothly. Americans have earned the reputation of being a wealthy people. We are, in the sense that the workingman may enjoy every advantage that is offered to the rich man. Our natural resources are a source of just pride to every American. Still, if we are to remain a wealthy country, we must learn to conserve our rich resources. Denuded hills must be planted with young trees. We must continue to restock our lakes and streams with fish. We must jealously guard our wild life, so that no species of it may become extinct. We must try to utilize all waste material. We must study soil erosion and soil conditions in order to use our agricultural lands to best advantage. We must not sink money in projects which are not for the public good. Do Americans boast that they have built the latest, fastest streamlined car, or that they have, in America, the finest hospitals of the world? Let us make sure that we expend our money wisely and well. Wealth and thrift go hand-in-hand; without the one, we have not the other.

"America must continue its present high standards of education. We must not only produce the finest professional men and women, but we must send out, from our schools, men and women who have learned the value of brotherliness and fellowship. They must be unprejudiced toward all people, regardless of race, religion, or nationality. Thus will America become a nation of true Americans."

I paused and looked at him. He was still listening attentively.

"What do you think we can do about these problems? Someone must take the responsibility upon his shoulders, but can a single man do it?" I asked him.

"It seems to me that there is one great hope for America. It lies with her youth to face these frontiers and to overcome them. America must place her faith in her young people. They are America's Soldiers of Progress. It may take years of work, but in the end youth will triumph. America will become a great institution, composed of thousands of lesser institutions — each one being an American home. Through these homes, her youth will learn the value of thrift, honesty, brotherhood, and peace. Through her youth, America will continue to advance throughout eternity. They are America!"

I suddenly realized that he had answered all my problems. I looked up, but the tall figure was gradually receding. It was then that I realized that I had communed with the Great Emancipator.

A rising sun shed its crimson rays over the stars and stripes of Old Glory as she rose majestically to her post. I saw the new frontiers conquered, making a New America!

SHIP'S LOG

In the fall of 1936 a crowd of landlubbers (our class) came seven hundred strong down East Street to the wharf where was tied the "Pittsfield High". Landlubbers from the smaller craft of Crane, Plunkett, Central, Pomeroy, Tucker, and Pontoosuc, we moved awkwardly as we swarmed aboard that Ship of State and made ready for our toilsome voyage on the Sea of Knowledge. The sails were set, the anchor raised—and we were off on the most pleasant, useful, and adventurous cruise man has ever undertaken - - -

SHIP'S LOG 1936 - 1939

September 9, 1936—New crew came on board. Mr. Roy M. Strout, First Lord of the Admiralty, called a meeting on the quarterdeck (the auditorium to you non-seamen) and introduced the Second Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. John Ford, and the Mistress of the Fleet, Miss Nellie J. Parker.

Registration was held in the main halls.

September 10, 1936—First day out. Stormy weather ahead. Can the new crew cope with it?

Many incorrect staterooms reported.

February 11, 1937—This Ship's Scribe is amazed at the intellect of the new crew. The first storms have been weathered successfully; the ship is going full speed ahead; and now, the halfway point on the first leg of our journey has been reached with but few casualties.

June 11, 1937—Vacation Point sighted. One third of our voyage is done!

June 18, 1937—We reached Port Junior at 2:30 today. The landlubbers became full-fledged tars.

Shore leave given to all till September.

September 8, 1937—The tars returned on board ship today—some a bit reluctantly—but certainly a far different crowd from the novices on board last year.

Few of the crew failed to report for duty.

December 2, 1937—The tars held their first organized meeting under the supervision of Mr. John Ford, Second Lord of the Admiralty. That they might be a crew, second to none, they elected the following officers:—

Captain	Ralph Renzi
First Mate	Charles Downey
Scribe	Jane Menard
Purser	Jane Hanley
Pilot	Mr. Thomas F. Geary

February 11, 1938—Again the halfway point has been reached—this time on the second leg of our cruise. The sea is calm and untroubled; the sails are standing out stiffly before a favorable wind—it looks like clear sailing.

The tars elected Seaman Paul Andrew, Chairman of the Junior Prom.

February 18, 1938—The tars' swimming team, composed of Seamen Dorothy Douglas, Corinne Duval, Loraine Dakin, Dorothy Dressman, Mary Devanny, Anne Devanny, Lucille Cote, Peggy Roberts, Mary Shelsey, Priscilla Gaylord, and Edna Rosen defeated both the landlubbers' and mates' teams today.

March 4, 1938—the tars' swimming team repeated its victory over the landlubbers and mates to become the undisputed champions of the ship.

May 20, 1938—The biggest affair ever to be held on board the "Pittsfield High", the Junior Prom, was given tonight and was a huge success.

June 2, 1938—The tars reelected their officers for another year. The Scribe again admits that they are a very wise crew.

June 17, 1938—Summer Peak sighted — one more week — then Port Senior!

June 24, 1938—This morning the "Pittsfield High" slid smoothly into Port Senior. The tars were elevated to mates.

Shore leave given to all until September.

September 7, 1938—The mates came aboard today for the last leg of their cruise. The sea looks calm — but who knows?

September 26, 1938—A meeting of the mates today on the quarterdeck.

Seaman Arthur McGill was elected Chairman of the Ring Committee.

Seaman George Adams was elected Chairman of the Operetta. (I guess the crew's mentality is slipping — an operetta!)

February 10, 1939—Another meeting—these mates are learning to sail their own craft very quickly.

Seaman Henry Stentiford was elected Chairman of the Cap and Gown Committee, while Seaman Ethel Scharmann was designated as Chairman of the Picture Committee.

February 17, 1939—The halfway mark again — the cruise is nearly over. The crew has done remarkably well in times of both calm and stress — the ship won't seem the same without them.

April 3, 1939—Marjorie Monroe, Able Seaman, chosen Editor-in-Chief of the crew's yearbook "P. H. S. Pinafore."

April 27-28, 1939—The Old Scribe is the one that is slipping — not the mates. The operetta "Pinafore" was stupendous, colossal — it was swell! These mates seem to do the best work on anything they start! (But that is only right, for the "Pittsfield High" turns out no seamen but the best.)

May 9, 1939—Kenneth Cote, Able Seaman, was elected to be chairman of the Banquet Committee by the ship's mates.

Seaman Donald Lamont was elected Chairman of Class Day, and Joseph Levine, sailmaker, the circulation manager of the "P. H. S. Pinafore."

June 18, 1939—The mates received their papers declaring them eligible for the captaincy of their own craft.

Six hundred strong they go slowly down the gangplank to the wharf. Now, captains all, they are leaving the "Pittsfield High"—their cruise is finished. As they go up East Street we cry to them —

"Farewell — Bon Voyage! May we be shipmates again some day."

CLASS WILL

May it be known to the Captain and his mates, the midshipmen, and plebs of the P. H. S. ship of state that the skipper, his officers, and crew of the "P. H. S. Pinafore" toss the following little souvenirs overboard:

To

Mr. Strout—two bits with which to get a pineapple haircut.

Miss Parker—a short skirt and some crimson nail polish.

Mr. Geary—the roses (we wish they could be orchids) from our Junior Prom together with our heartfelt thanks for his able direction of our class.

Miss Daly—a slide rule so those unruly study hallers can't cheat on their tables.

Miss Hodges—a season ticket to Maurice Evans' "Hamlet."

Miss Prediger—a notebook in which to write all her additions and corrections on Muzzey.

Miss Kennedy—a special place for her glasses.

Mr. McCarthy—a book of poems for his poetry hour on WBRK.

Mr. Leahy—a supply of chalk that always hits the target.

Miss Riley—a pack of hounds to lend atmosphere to her "Isn't that a howl!"

Mr. Herberg—the comforting (?) thought that perhaps some seniors know the difference between zero and nothing.

Miss Davison—a new set of chompers for Mr. Bones and some Ipana to keep them sparkling.

Miss Morris—a class of Sir Roger de Coverley fans.

Mr. Holly—a frown for a change.

Mr. Reynolds—the time to write a new law book.

Mr. Hayes—chalk that will bounce back.

Mr. Herrick—a penny a day so he can buy three cents' worth of candy instead of two.

Mr. Goodwin—a model airplane erector set.

Miss Madden—traffic lights for the cafeteria and a turnstile by the cash register.

Mr. Joyce—a kiddie car so he can keep up with Junior.

Mr. Lynch—a tonic for his puns.

Miss Musgrove—four dozen pairs of ankle socks (assorted colors.)

Miss Kaliher—a special edition of The Eagle announcing Hitler's decease.

Coach Carmody—the pennant for the Boston Red Sox.

Miss Millet—a pocket edition of traffic regulations.

Mr. Conroy—directions on what's "Too Hot to Handle" and what isn't.

Miss Pfeiffer—a scooter bike and the right of way in the corridors, (by request.)

The sophomore and junior girls—a book on "What the High School Girl Should Wear and Why."

Miss Nagle—a good looking golf instructor to lend a certain something to the game.
Mr. Sheridan—a hunting license and something to shoot.
Mr. Gorman—an overcoat.
Mr. Moran—some angelic sophomore boys.
Mr. Connie McMahon—a nice, quiet, refined study hall (if there is such a thing.)
Mr. Edward McKenna—a can of polish for his new car.
Miss Viger—a new lease on life for her jalopy.
Mr. Innis—another reminder to salute the flag in the morning.

Thus, we, the crew of the “P. H. S. Pinafore”, five hundred fifty strong, do dispose of all our possessions, tangible and intangible; any remaining undisposed of, we do hereby consign to Davy Jones’ locker.

Signed and sealed this ninth day of May in the presence of the following witnesses:

MR. F. CARL GORMAN

Immense enthusiasm and a boundless capacity for his work are two of the most outstanding qualities of this energetic teacher.

H. M. S. PINAFORE

ON April twenty-seventh, Her Majesty's Ship "Pinafore" proudly sailed into the harbor at Pittsfield High School.

Opening night and as curtain time neared, an expectant hush settled over the capacity audience. The house lights dimmed and a burst of applause greeted our conductor, Mr. Gorman. As the curtains were opened, the manly voices of the sailors resounded through the auditorium. The story proceeded at a rapid pace. Gordon Almstead as our stately captain, captured the audience by the tones of his rich baritone voice. Donald Lucier, our Sir Joseph Porter, proved to be a versatile and skillful actor. His antics and attempts at youthful flirtation did much to provide the adept touches of humor in a way all his own.

Handsome Bruce Miller as Ralph and charming Cecile Bissaillon as Josephine sang touchingly of the pangs of true love, and the audience took the lovers to their hearts. Although Walter Woodstock as the villain Dick Deadeye did everything in his power to foil the plans of the lovers, Little Buttercup, portrayed by the "plump and pleasing" Macie Williams allayed the fears of the audience in the well known "Baby Farming Song," which she rendered most effectively. The "Englishman" song, ably sung by our boatswain, William Kent, proved to be one of the highspots of the opera. Much credit is due to John Cockrill and Florence Zandrino for their able rendition of their roles.

To Mr F. Carl Gorman may we offer our sincerest appreciation and heartfelt gratitude for his splendid work in directing our production. The excellent performance of the orchestra with concertmistress Miss Grace Steele was a tribute to his ability as a conductor.

To Miss Virginia Amerio go our thanks for her unceasing loyalty and her outstanding work as piano accompanist.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CRUISE

- September 9, 1936—Seven hundred sophomores rumored to be at large in high school—very docile creatures—can be recognized by blank expressions on faces
- October 1, 1936—Experimental Soph releases hop toad in French class; true to form girls leap on to desks in two seconds flat.
- November 20, 1936—Report cards issued—lack of study revealed—no more nights out.
- January 4, 1937—Back from Christmas vacation; faculty worn out from strenuous week—poor things!
- February 6, 1937—Girls' gym teacher mourns passing of time when girls used to swoon. (It would make First Aid classes much more interesting.)
- April 22, 1937—Spring Fever prevalent in school—very, very, very contagious disease.
- May 15, 1937—Geometry student makes amazing discovery that the "arc" was not devised by Noah!!!
- June 18, 1937—Sophs discard their ignominious title, having acquired enough culture (!?! ) to be called Juniors.
- September 10, 1937—Latin teacher admits taking golf lessons from member of Junior Class.
- October 6, 1937—Pet dogs run riot in school—(on girls' lapels we mean.)
- November 9, 1937—High-water trousers on our boys reveal barber pole socks.
- November 22, 1937—Junior B Class officially organized under Pilot Thomas F. Geary.
- January 27, 1938—New fad among girls—signing each other's shoes. (We don't mean shine, either.)
- March 23, 1938—P. H. S. students, homeward bound, leave behind colorful trails of—we blush to say it—orange skins!
- April 4, 1938—Back to Nature Movement—spiders discovered crawling up and down girls' dresses with no cries of fear from girls.
- May 15, 1938—Stocking market takes decided slump—old standbys replaced by suntan lotion. (Is this a secret? ? ?)
- June 17, 1938—Juniors move into dignified location on second floor vacated by seniors.
- September 12, 1938—Four days of school completed. Wonder when next vacation comes?
- October 25, 1938—If only Tarzan were here! He'd feel at home among all these leopard skins.
- December 13, 1938—Lady bug in 201 remarks to second ditto, "It's gettin' sorta chilly 'round here. Let's move."—and the two of them jitterbug out of the room.
- January 7, 1939—Outbreak of charm bracelets—charming girls, charming.
- March 8, 1939—Students warned to refrain from falling down—at least in school. It's childish and moreover—it dents the floors.
- April 10, 1939—Hollanders clatter through halls in little (?) wooden shoes. They'll be wearing aprons to school next.
- April 27, 1939—"First night" of H. M. S. Pinafore—great success.
- April 28, 1939—"Pinafore" chorus girl reports to school at 2:15 P.M.—and admits she's a "little late" (!!)
- May 8, 1939—Things going from bad to worse! Tie-less boys—toe-less and heel-less girls—super-short skirts—shirt-tails showing—in fact, everything wrong. Instructors feared to be adopting our quixotic fashions.
- June 18, 1939—Graduation held in "great open spaces" at front of school. Five hundred fifty strong, we bid a fond farewell to the school we have known and loved for three long years.

THE ATHLETES

*We were "never known to quail
At the fury of a gale,
And we're never, never sick at sea."*

Football is without doubt the most popular sport at Pittsfield, from both the spectators' and players' point of view.

As a rule, Pittsfield High produces a strong team every year. The 1938 team, although not outstanding nor possibly as good as those of previous years, had quite a successful season. We defeated Lee in the opening game 25-0. In the first out-of-town game Pittsfield deadlocked a powerful Greenfield team 0-0. The battle with Technical High of Springfield was one of the most exciting games ever witnessed on the Common. In the last quarter we were behind 12-0. Then Joe Renzi's passes began to click, and through a succession of passes we were able to score a touchdown. Joe Renzi charged through the line and made the extra point. With a final touchdown made on a pass from Renzi to Eulian, the game was won by the very narrow margin of 13-12. We were defeated in the two following weeks by Agawam and by Adams. Then we avenged last year's defeat at the hands of Drury by trimming them 19-0. In the next game we were defeated by Albany Academy 13-7. We bounded back into the winning column by defeating Stockbridge School of Amherst 13-7. In the annual Thanksgiving Day battle we topped our arch rival St. Joseph 6-0 in a thrilling game.

The 1938 football team was captained by a fine leader and outstanding player, Ralph Renzi. Ralph was chosen by the Sports Writers Association as the most valuable player in Western Massachusetts and also as the captain of the mythical All-Western Massachusetts football team. Other outstanding players on this year's team were Ralph's brother Joe, Grady, Eulian, Carmel, and Twining.

BASKETBALL

Pittsfield opened this year's spasmodic basketball season with a spectacular exhibition with Adams. The raw, inexperienced boys of Pittsfield, without a single left-over from last year's varsity, fought the champions of Adams to a standstill only to see in the "sudden death" period, Al Pietras of Adams stumble forward and, falling on both knees, sink a basket from this unconventional position. The final score was 36-24. Pittsfield, however, could not maintain this phenomenal showing, dropping to seventh place in the league for the first half of the schedule. In the next game we were defeated by Dalton 18-34, but bounced back to the win column by overwhelming Williamstown 32-28. Then we lost to St. Joe (North Adams) 23-26, to Bennington 18-32, and, finally, to Drury 17-29. In the first City Series game a rejuvenated Pittsfield team rose to the occasion by upsetting St. Joe 19-17, on Grady's basket in the over-time period. This improved Pittsfield team climbed from seventh place to fourth place in the league during the second half of the season. Williamstown was trounced 49-27. Then after losses to the powerful quintets of Adams, 19-39, and Drury, 30-35, the team finished the season with three sweet, revengeful victories. Bennington was defeated by a surprisingly large margin 42-20. Dalton fell by the score of 34-24 and, finally, St. Joe (North Adams) to the tune of 37-28. St. Joe of Pittsfield copped the City Series by winning the second game 29-25 and the third 20-16. In their only other game with a high school, the exciting contest with Lee, the boys had the new experience of being called back from the showers, although they had apparently won 31-30. The scorer had made a mistake, the real count being 30-30. Happily, however, Pittsfield won in the overtime 32-30. Throughout most of the games the high scorer of Pittsfield was the clever, eagle-eyed Walt Skowronski. The regular line up for the team was as follows:

Forwards—Walt Skowronski and Frank Moynihan
Guards—Ralph Renzi and Vince Monteleone
Center—Art McGill

HOCKEY

Hockey is not a new sport at Pittsfield, but until the last few years very little attention has been given to this exciting game. Interest has been increased primarily because of two reasons: the first because there is an easily accessible rink behind the school; and the second because of the team having new uniforms.

The rink was obtained from the Park Commission, set up by the Vocational Department, flooded and shoveled by the members of the hockey squad.

Although the season was somewhat brief, the team was very successful, winning four out of the five games played. The team played half the scheduled games; the other half were called off because of lack of ice. The only defeat was at the hands of Berkshire School in the first game of the year 7-1. In the next game we defeated Berkshire Industrial School 6-1. Then we shut out Albany Academy in Albany 4-0. In the last two games we defeated Lenox with the scores of 7-6 and 4-2. Among the players who were outstanding on this year's sextet were Chick Evans, high scorer and star center; Bob Roney, defense, who was good both offensively and defensively; and George Morton, who so effectively filled the goalie position which had been so weak.

If the hockey team continues to make strides as it has done in the last two years, it will not be long before it will rank with football and basketball in popularity. With this new rink available, Pittsfield High is bound to turn out capable players.

SKI CLUB

In January a Ski Club was formed with Mr. Leahy as adviser. Competition in downhill and slalom was planned with Drury and Adams High, but due to poor conditions meets were not held. A team was scheduled to participate in the Massachusetts Junior Downhill Championship at Worcester, but this meet was also cancelled, much to the disappointment of the boys who had expected to have P. H. S. at the top of the result column. The club did, however, have several fine practice sessions at the Ghost Trail. Officers of the club were: President, Gerson Rosenthal; Vice President, Bob Johnson; Secretary, Dick Pomeroy.

BASEBALL

This year our baseball team is going places. Not only did ten veterans report on the first call, but eighty other candidates signed up. With so many veterans backed up by this great number of newcomers the team has a good fielding combine and the best of pitching, although the batting strength is a question mark.

The pitching is bound to be good with veterans John Simeno and Dan Corrigan in form, aided by the sensational sophomore, Carl Heidel. The rest of the battery, the position of catcher, will be filled capably by Sam Russo.

The infield will be great on defense, being led by Captain Pete Ocheano at second base, backed up by Art McGill at first, Joe McGill at third, Joe Dottavio and Chick Evans.

The schedule is as follows:

May 6	Williams College Frosh	Williams 2—Pittsfield 1
May 13	Drury	Drury 5—Pittsfield 4
May 20	Adams	Adams 7—Pittsfield
May 24	Bennington	Bennington 1—Pittsfield 14
May 27	at Dalton	Dalton 15—Pittsfield 9
May 30	at St. Joe	St. Joe 6—Pittsfield 8
June 2	Dalton	Dalton 6—Pittsfield 12
June 7	Drury
June 12	at Adams
June 14	at Bennington
June 17	St. Joe

TRACK

Pittsfield High's track team has made a fine start for a successful season. On May 6, the team journeyed to Sheffield to avenge last year's defeat by Berkshire. In the 100 yard dash Winthrop Evans, brother of the former P. H. S. athlete, Buddy Evans, took top honors, and Ralph Renzi came in third. After taking second and third places in the mile, Pittsfield took four firsts in a row: Ed Bailey won the 440, and Bill Peirson, the half mile; Captain Al Carletti then took the high jump with a jump of five feet, and Gentile pole vaulted 10 feet for the fourth successive first. Berkshire then outdistanced our boys in the broad jump and javelin throw. Renzi took the shot put event and Pittsfield, with one event to go, led 50-49, exactly the same score as last year. The relay team of Conti, Mele, Carletti, and Evans, with victory up to them, came through to give Pittsfield an additional five points and the meet.

In a triangular meet with the Williams Freshman and Drury, Pittsfield came out second best. Win Evans, nicknamed "Wings", came through in fine style to take the 100 yard dash and the 220. Captain Carletti, forcing Tuttle of Williams to five feet six inches, took second in the high jump. Pittsfield did well to take 29 points from the older, more experienced college boys, who won with 90½ points.

Led by Win Evans and Al Carletti the boys in the Purple and White took the eighth annual Greenfield Meet. Evans, setting a new meet record of 10.3 seconds in the 100 yard dash, finished fully ten yards in front of Renzi, who placed second. "Wings" then went on to take the 220 yard event and the broad jump with 20 feet, 2 inches. Captain Carletti, with a leap of five feet six inches, won the high jump. Conti and Bailey placed second and third in the 440. Senger took second in the mile and Procopio second in the half mile.

As this book goes to press, Pittsfield High has a fine chance to take the Western Massachusetts track title.

GIRLS' SPORTS

The class of 1939 has an exceptional girl athlete—Mary Popp. The highest award that a girl can win in athletics is a monogram. To receive this award one must gain four letters, and this is not an easy task. Mary received not only one monogram but two! This is the second time this has happened in the annals of P.H.S. girls' sports. She won three letters for being bowling champ for three years. In her junior year she won the interclass track meet and received another letter. This year she was a member of the senior basketball team, which won the basketball tournament; thus she acquired her fifth letter. She got her other three letters by winning twelve sets of numerals. These she gained for making teams and getting points for participating in almost every afternoon activity. During her three years in high school, she has been a member of the basketball team and played on the hockey team in her junior and senior years.

Three other girls also received their monograms:—Edith Leipe and Rita Edda, who acquired their monograms for being members of the victorious senior basketball team; for being on the baseball nine in their sophomore year when the sophomores won the tournament; and for winning eight sets of numerals. Dorothy Douglas, the third girl to win her monogram, belonged to the winning baseball and basketball teams, received a letter for swimming, and earned four sets of numerals. All three of these girls were members of the hockey team for three years, members of the basketball team for three years, and members of the baseball nine for two years.

Our class may well be proud of the group of mermaids who represented 1939. Chief among these water-maids was Priscilla Gaylord, who, in addition to receiving two letters for swimming, went down to Somerville and came back Junior New England 100 yard backstroke champion. Another exceptional swimmer, who captained the P.H.S. team for the two years that we had meets, was Corrine Duval. She was a member of the 400 yard relay team that won the Junior New England 400 yard relay championship at Somerville in 1938. Corrine also received a letter for being on the sophomore baseball team. Other members of the swimming team were the Devanny twins, Anne and Mary, and Mary Shelsey, who received two letters each. Girls who received letters for being on the varsity swimming team for one year were Loraine Dakin, Mary Roberts, and Lucille Cote. In our junior year our team won the interclass swimming championship.

While mere sophomores, we did something not very often done — we won the 1937 baseball tournament. Sophomores are looked down upon and are not usually thought to have had the experience to win tournaments, but we surprised everyone. Girls who received letters in this sport were Helen Wolfe, Elizabeth Uliasz, Mary Londergan, Catherine Butler, and Marilda Fulker.

Ruth Thorpe was our feminine Robin Hood and in 1938 walked off with the archery tournament, for which she got a letter.

Four girls received letters for gaining four sets of numerals:—Germaine Ferland, Marjorie Monroe, Patricia Plunkett, and Marilda Fulker.

As this book goes to press the 1939 baseball tournament has not been played. If Ella Uliasz and Mary Shelsey make the teams and if the seniors win, they will also receive their monograms, as Ella has three letters for sophomore baseball and four sets of numerals, while Mary also has three letters, two for swimming and the other for four sets of numerals.

It would be impossible to mention all the girls who have received numerals for various activities. All in all, we think that, athletically, our girls have done very well.

Star Athletes of the Class of 1939

Because the class of 1939 has made a wonderful record for itself in the line of sports, it is fitting that the athletes who have done such fine work be mentioned with their accomplishments:

Ralph Renzi—Ralph was the stellar captain of the football team. He also earned letters in track, gym, and basketball. He was chosen by the Western Massachusetts Sports' Writers Association as "most valuable player in this section," and captain of the all-Western Massachusetts team.

Walter Skowronski—Walt was a flashy forward on the basketball team. He is also a fine golfer.

Peter Ocheano—Pete, a fine second baseman, is the captain of this year's baseball team.

Charles Evans—Chicky was the star center and high scorer on the hockey team. He also earned his letter in baseball.

Albert Carletti—Al is the captain of the track team and holds the high jump record.

John Gentile—John earned letters in track and football.

Arthur McGill—Art played center on the basketball team and first base in baseball.

Sam Russo—Sam earned his letters in baseball and basketball.

Robert Roney—Bob was a "flash" as a defense man in hockey.

Joseph Renzi—Husky was an excellent passer and really a fine football player.

Vincent Monteleone—Vince performed on the basketball court and baseball diamond.

William Eulian—Bill earned his letters in basketball and football.

Charles Foley—Chuck was a "whiz" as an end in football.

Horace Hubbard—Hub is our star broadjumper.

William Ford—Bill is a very fine outfielder in baseball.

John Talbot—Jack played left wing to earn his letter in hockey.

Stephen Helstowski—Steve was an excellent blocking back. He also played baseball.

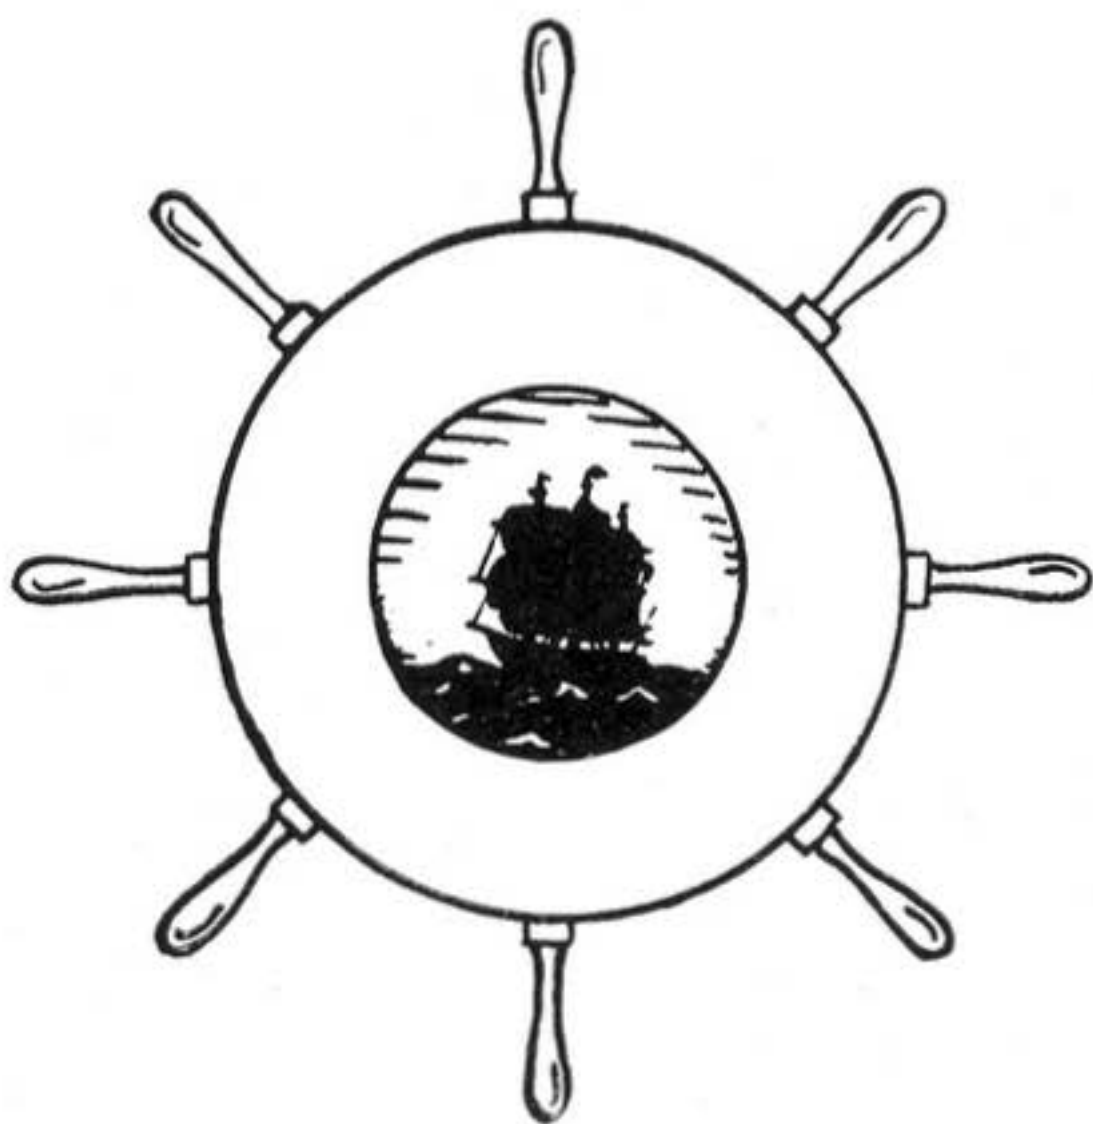

Joseph Strizzi—Joe was a back in football and plays outfielder on the diamond.

Gerson Rosenthal—Gus is president of the ski club and captain of the ski team.

These boys have made a lasting record in the annals of the school, and with them go the best wishes of the class for future success.

Your Opportunity

In just a few more days, school will be out. Among younger students this is a signal for jubilation, but not for the older boys and girls, who are being graduated from high school and college. For them it is a time of anticipation over the future. They will be facing the world for the first time alone. They wonder what the future holds for them. They are young, eager, intense, adventuresome. It is to these young people whom I should like to address a few words. My words concern the future of your country, your city, your community—and the part you are going to play in making them better. In the past decade, while you were in school, you have watched what science has done toward adding to the comfort, the progress and the security of America. Great these changes have been. Older prophets have said that with so much accomplished, the opportunity for coming generations was lessened until these younger people would find nothing left for them to do. I hope you have not believed this. The fact is that our progress in the past will be as nothing when compared with the progress that will be made during your active business years, and the opportunities which the members of my generation enjoyed, will seem small compared to the opportunities which shall come to you. We who are older will help part of this progress to come about, of course. But it is your privilege and your destiny to carry on from where we leave off and to make the world a better, a safer, a happier place in which to live. This is your opportunity. I envy you your opportunity. There are many world problems left to solve. I speak particularly for my own industry when I say that, great as the service of electricity to mankind has been, we scarcely have scratched the surface of its usefulness. Some one of you reading this message today may be destined to make electricity a far greater force. My best wishes to you.
